Policy Statement:

For the purposes of this policy, Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation adopts the City of Toronto’s definition of vulnerability and its related commentary, as set out below:

“The City of Toronto – Working Group on Vulnerable Individuals defines vulnerability as the result of interaction between the challenges a person faces and the resources that they can access when facing those challenges. A vulnerable resident¹ must be assessed in context - a person's vulnerability or resiliency will depend on their circumstances, environment, and resources in the broadest sense. Vulnerable persons may be isolated, without identified supports, reclusive, have underlying medical problems and/or mental health issues posing a threat of harm to themselves and/or others. Physical harm to the self may be due to reduced ability to manage activities of daily living, substance misuse, isolation, poor insight and/or reluctance to accept support services (Toronto Public Health – Vulnerable Adults/Seniors Team, 2012).

Commentary: The following factors are essential to understanding vulnerability:

- Poverty: A lack of income limits the resources that a person can draw upon in times of crisis.
- Structural Inequalities: Challenges can be exacerbated by discrimination based on gender, sexual orientation, and ethnicity.
- Social networks/Social support: The ability to draw up on social supports in times of crisis can help a person cope with challenges.
- Personal limitations: Physical and mental illnesses/impairments may inhibit a person's ability to respond to challenges.
- Physical location: Some areas have greater access to resources and supports than others and this may impact a person's ability to get help.”

Purpose:

Responsive to the City of Toronto’s approach to vulnerability, and consistent with Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation’s mandate and statutory and legislative obligations, this Vulnerability Definition Policy guides Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation’s approach in responding to vulnerable residents whose tenancy with Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation is or may become at risk.

To support its successful application, Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation will ensure that this Policy and its related procedures and processes are appropriately communicated to its residents and other stakeholders, and that appropriate training is provided to its employees, contractors, volunteers, agents and other third parties.

Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation Vulnerability Operational Guideline:

In applying the City of Toronto's definition of vulnerability to the context of Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation's mandate and operations, in the first year of this Policy, the following Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation Vulnerability Operational Guideline is adopted:

"Vulnerability is defined as the interaction between the challenges that a Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation resident² faces in fulfilling their obligations as a residential tenant and the resources that they can access while facing those challenges. Vulnerable residents can be reasonably expected to enjoy a successful tenancy when steps are taken by Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation, working together with other service system partners, to connect vulnerable residents to appropriate and available resources (e.g., family and health, social services, and community supports).

Vulnerability may affect the ability of a Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation resident to live independently as required by the Housing Services Act, 2011. In such cases, the resident may require more intensive supports than are available within the social housing context. In these cases, Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation will make reasonable efforts to ensure that the resident's needs are assessed and that the resident is connected with appropriate and available housing, shelter or support options before their tenancy with Toronto Seniors Housing Corporation is terminated."

Compliance and Monitoring:

This policy and the Vulnerability Operational Guideline will be reviewed and evaluated annually, and amended, if required.
